Florentine diamond resurfaces after hundred years in hiding

The 137-carat, pear-shaped gem has never been missing and is safe in a vault in Canada.

The diamond's address was given when the British Crown Jewels were sold to the United States in 1948. The diamond was hidden in a vault in the basement of the White House. It was discovered in 1982 by a Canadian jeweller who was working on a piece of jewelry for the Queen Mother. The diamond was found in a small box in the vault. It was the same diamond that had been hidden in the vault for over a century.

Fibres/Yarns/Fabrics Focus on performance textiles at Techtextil India 2025

Messe Frankfurt Trade Fairs India Pvt Ltd, in collaboration with Concept N Strategies, has announced the debut of the "Sportech Pavilion" at Techtextil India 2025. The new initiative will spotlight India's rapidly advancing sports and activewear textiles sector, offering a dedicated platform for innovation in high performance, sustainable and smart textile solutions.

Set within the broader context of Techtextil India, this specialized area will cater to the booming demand for fitness and sportswear materials such as moisture-wicking fabrics, compression wear, breathable garments and sustainable alternatives. The focus reflects the broader transformation underway in India's sports textiles industry, fueled by shifting consumer preferences, material innovation and growing governmental backing.

Raj Manek, Executive Director & Board Member at Messe Frankfurt Asia Holdings Ltd, described the Pavilion as a natural progression of the "Sportech vision." "Sportech Pavilion offers a focused space for sports and performance textiles, an industry witnessing phenomenal growth globally. It will benefit manufacturers and buyers alike, giving direct access to game-changing technologies."

Kishan Daga, Founder of Concept N Strategies, added: "India's fitness and sports textile sector is on the brink of a breakthrough. The Sportech Pavilion will be a world-class platform that enables Indian manufacturers to showcase their capabilities on a global audience."

IBARC Group reports the Indian sportswear market reached USD 20.2 billion in 2024 and is expected to grow to USD 36.6 billion by 2032 at a CAGR of 15%. Similarly, the sportswear market in Europe is growing from EUR 206.4 billion in 2024 to EUR 260.45 billion by 2032, according to Fortune Business Insights.

The Sportech Pavilion will welcome exhibitors across a diverse product range including technical fabrics, recycled textiles, smart wearables, performance coatings, and sports related accessories and equipment. Visitors can expect participation from global sportswear retailers, designers, sourcing specialists, and technology providers.

By leveraging Messe Frankfurt's international network and Concept N Strategies' extensive expertise, the Pavilion aims to support Indian brands in reaching international markets while attracting global investors to India. Additionally, Techtextil India 2025 will continue to focus on medical textiles through its MEDITEX platform in partnership with the South India Textile Research Association.

This strategic initiative not only positions India as a growing force in performance textiles but also strengthens Techtextil India's role as a hub for technical textile innovation.

Sportech Pavilion' To Spotlight India's Sports Textiles At Techtextil India 2025

TECHNICAL TEXTILES TODAY | April 16, 2025 | No Comments

Mumbai, 14 April 2025: Messe Frankfurt Trade Fairs India and Concept N Strategies have joined forces to launch the "Sportech Pavilion" at Techtextil India 2025. This exclusive platform will spotlight the fast-growing sports and activewear textile industry, offering a gateway for innovative products such as high-performance fabrics, eco-friendly materials, and sports gear.

As health-conscious lifestyles and the demand for premium sportswear continue to rise, the Sportech Pavilion arrives at the perfect moment. It will feature cutting-edge solutions like moisture-wicking materials, compression wear, and smart textiles, alongside advancements in sustainable production. This initiative aligns with the Indian government's vision of self-reliance and innovation in textile manufacturing.

Mr. Raj Manek of Messe Frankfurt emphasized that this pavilion will serve as a dynamic hub for emerging textile technology and global business opportunities. Mr. Kishan Daga from Concept N Strategies highlighted the potential for India to become a global leader in performance-driven sportswear and gear through this initiative.

The Indian sportswear market, currently valued at USD 10.2 billion, is projected to reach USD 16.6 billion by 2033. The global market is also booming, expected to hit USD 350.45 billion by 2032.

The Sportech Pavilion will feature:

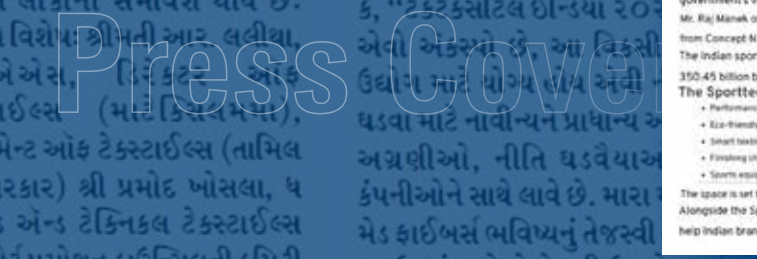

- Performance textile producers
- Eco-friendly material suppliers
- Smart textile innovators
- Fashioning chemical manufacturers
- Sports equipment and footwear developers

The space is set to attract a wide spectrum of industry professionals including brands, designers, researchers, and sourcing agents. Alongside the Sportech Pavilion, the event will also host the second edition of MEDITEX, focusing on medical textiles in partnership with SITRA. This collaborative platform will help Indian brands gain global exposure and connect with sourcing leaders worldwide.

Techtextil India 2025 commences: Ushering in a new era for functional textiles

Mumbai, Techtextil India 2025, a premier trade fair for technical textiles, non-wovens and composites, organised by Messe Frankfurt Trade Fairs India, has opened today at Bombay Exhibition Centre, Mumbai, marking its 10th edition. Running from 19 – 21 November 2025, this landmark edition connects 215 exhibitors, including 100 first-time exhibitors to the textile value chain, featuring innovations across 12 application-based textile segments. With the ever-growing textiles industry, the show's dynamic agenda features 300+ brands, a dedicated Sportech Pavilion and a German Pavilion - which features 13 brands. Visitors will have ample engagement and networking opportunities to discover next-generation solutions and deepen partnerships at this vital B2B event. The show was inaugurated in the august presence of distinguished dignitaries, including: Guest of Honour, Honourable Smt R Lalitha, IAS, Director of Textiles, Department of Textiles, Government of Tamil Nadu, Mr Pramod Khosla, Member of Committee of Administration, The Manmade and Technical Textiles Export Promotion

Council (MATEXIL), Mr Mahesh Kudav, Chairman, Indian Technical Textiles Association, Ms Sabine Scharrer, Director, Brand Management, Technical Textiles and Textile Processing, Messe Frankfurt GmbH & Mr Raj Manek, Executive Director & Board Member, Messe Frankfurt Asia Holdings Ltd. Guest of Honour, Honourable Smt R Lalitha, IAS, Director of Textiles, Directorate of Textiles, Government of Tamil Nadu, sharing her experience opined: "The Techtextil India 2025 is an expo that weaves together leading innovators, policy-makers and companies to frame appropriate policies for the growing industry. I believe that man-made fibres is the sunrise sector in the future. Concepts like sustainability and circularity will give rise to better technology that could help speed up research and development in India." On this milestone occasion, Mr Raj Manek, Executive Director and Board Member, Messe Frankfurt Asia Holdings Ltd, commented: "The Indian textile industry is witnessing a remarkable transformation driven by government support, technological innovation and global demand for sustainable materials.

Techtextil India 2025 will not only showcase the latest in technical textiles and nonwovens but also serve as a knowledge-driven hub connecting policy with practice. As the high-value, sustainable and globally competitive textile industry is receiving renewed focus, the synergy between government initiatives and industry platforms such as Techtextil India 2025 will continue to strengthen India's leadership in the global textile landscape. The show weaves together innovation, collaboration and opportunity to create a more resilient, future-ready industry." The 10th edition of Techtextil India is a significant platform for innovation, strategic networking, and opportunity creation for the technical textile sector. The opening day has already seen robust participation, energised discussions and promising collaboration. The three days will intrigue visitors into in-depth knowledge sessions under Techtextil Symposium, ranging from topics such as new avenues for technical textiles, sustainable textiles, India's activewear future, exploring circular supply chains, fabrics from waste and more.
